SUNDAY BASEBALL.

Prohibitive Ordinance Being Amended-Sprinkling Contracts.

Ogden people will probably be al-owed to have Sunday baseball. The Ogden people will probably be alliowed to have Sunday baseball. The question came up in the city council last night and while the action taken was not final, the results as a whole, were favorable to the modifying of the present ordinance prohibiting the game. The matter was brought up by an amendment introduced by Culien which provides that the section of the ordinance prohibiting baseball shall not be operative in case the game is played within a fenced enclosure and at a distance of half a mile from any place of public worship. This amendment passed its first and second reading and went to the committee on laws. Another matter of importance disposed of by the council was the awarding of the sprinkling contracts. There were forety-three bids in all and the council considered them in committee of the whole for an hour and a half. The contracts were awarded as follows: First ward, E. G. Maw, 564 permonth; Second ward, Byron Chase, 5449 per month; Third ward, H. D. Moore, $59,50 per month; Fourth ward, H. C. Brown, $55 per month; Fifth ward, I. C. Prospect of Early Building Brightened By Visit of New York Divine.

Rev. C. L. Thompson D.D., secretary of the board of home missions of the Fresbyterian church, with headquarters in New York, was in Ogden yesterday and has just about completed a tour of the state investigating the conditions of the Presbyterian organizations in Utah and the west generally. As secretary of the board of home missions Mr. Thompson represents the expenditure of about $1,000,000 annually on church work in this country. While here he took a drive up the canyon together with his wife, Rev. James Byers and a number of other Ogden people. Mr. Thompson expressed himself as encouraged over the progress of Presbyterian work in Utah and pleased with the evidences of material prosperity. He was impressed with the need of Ogden for a larger and better church and set about in a practical manner to bring about such a result. He procured data on the value of the foundation already built, the original plans of the proposed structure, together with the probable cost of the new church and the amount of outside aid which would likely be needed. While somewhat conservative in all things, Mr. Thompson nevertheless expressed himself as in favor of the early building of the edifice and the prospect of its completion at an early date are quite favorable.
